An unapplied payment shall mean payment(s) received from Customer without adequate remittance detail to determine what invoice the payment(s) shall be applied to.

Honeywell reserves the right to correct any inaccurate invoices. Any corrected invoice or invalid dispute must be paid by the original invoice payment due date or the issuance date of the corrected invoice, whichever is later. Customer must pay the undisputed amount of the invoice within the original invoice payment due date.

Unless agreed otherwise in writing by Honeywell, Honeywell allows the Customer to pay by credit card an amount not to exceed $10.000 and accepts Visa, MasterCard, American Express provided, however, that the Customer's credit card must be charged on the same day that Honeywell invoices the Customer. For avoidance of doubt, Honeywell has no obligation to refund any automatic recurring Subscription Services charges to User's credit card where User failed to provide a timely notice of termination, and User agrees not to contest such charges with its credit card provider.

If Customer is delinquent in its payment obligations to Honeywell for any undisputed amount, Honeywell may, at Honeywell's sole option and until all delinquent amounts and late charges, if any, are paid:

M. combine any of the above rights and remedies as may be permitted by applicable law.

7. HYPERINFLATION. The Parties acknowledge that the pricing set forth in this Agreement (the "Baseline Price") is based on the following costs as of the Effective Date: (a) the prices of third-party Products, as well as any components and commodity raw materials used for or in the manufacture of Honeywell Products (collectively, the "Materials") that are commercially available to Honeywell and subject to binding quotes from suppliers valid for 30 days (the "Validity Period") and (b) applicable freight and direct labor costs. Honeywell may provide Customer with written notice of a price increase beyond the Baseline Price if, during the term of this Agreement, either of the following increases by more than five percent (5%) relative to the Baseline Price (a "Price Change"): (i) after the expiration of the Validity Period, the lowest-available price to Honeywell for the Materials under sub-section (a); or (ii) the energy, freight or labor costs under sub-section (b) for the manufacture or delivery of the Materials. Upon Customer's request, Honeywell will provide reasonable documentation substantiating the Price Change which may include, but is not limited to, supplier notifications of price changes or invoices; published index data relating as applicable to commodities, metals, energy, electronics and labor; specific labor pool data associated with relevant manufacturing and engineering facilities and deployment sites; freight carrier rate sheets; third-party market reports from recognized industry sources; and other relevant materials substantiating the Price Change. Upon receipt of such notice, the unit price for all undelivered, affected Materials shall be adjusted to reflect the applicable Price Change, effective as of the date set forth in the notice.

Honeywell shall use commercially reasonable efforts to secure the lowest-available prices for freight, labor and qualified components and raw materials in the required volumes from reputable and legally-permitted sources; provided that nothing herein shall require Honeywell to (A) change the design or implementation of a project, (B) change any Product design, type, or location of manufacture, or (C) purchase any excess volume or agree to any commitment outside the ordinary course of business (including, without limitation, any minimum-volume, exclusive or long-term supply commitment) to secure pricing.

Any Price Changes, as well as the timing, effectiveness, and method of determination thereof, will be separate from and in addition to any changes to pricing that are affected by any other provisions in this Agreement. Nothing herein shall limit (i) the applicability of the Force Majeure Section to any set of events or circumstances or the ability of either Party to invoke the remedies associated therewith; or (ii) Customer's responsibility to reimburse Honeywell for expedited or non-standard shipping and any special routing, packing, labelling, handling, or insurance requested by Customer.

Notwithstanding the above, the price of an Order may be adjusted to account for increases in the cost of electronic components and computing equipment (including processors, GPUs, memory modules, networking, and storage equipment) that form an integral part of Honeywell Automation Systems. Delivery schedules may also be adjusted to reflect the impact of extended component lead times.

8. SETOFF. Customer's right to set off or withhold payment based on counterclaims shall be excluded, unless the respective right is exercised based on an undisputed counterclaim or a counterclaim finally asserted by a court.

9. TAXES AND DUTIES

Honeywell's pricing excludes all taxes (including but not limited to sales, use, excise, environmental, value-added, and other similar taxes or fees imposed on the sale or transfer of goods or provision of services under this Agreement), tariffs and duties (including, but not limited to, amounts imposed upon the Product(s) or bill of material thereof under any Trade Act and charges (collectively "Taxes"). Customer will pay all Taxes resulting from the Agreement or Honeywell's performance under the Agreement, whether imposed, levied, collected, withheld, or assessed now or later. If Honeywell is required to impose, levy, collect, withhold, or assess any Taxes on any transaction under the Agreement, then in addition to the purchase price, Honeywell will invoice Customer for such Taxes unless, at the time of Order placement, Customer furnishes Honeywell with a valid exemption certificate or other documentation sufficient to verify exemption from the Taxes, including, but not limited to, a direct pay permit. If any Taxes are required to be withheld from amounts paid or payable to Honeywell under this Agreement, (i) the amount due to Honeywell will be increased so that the amount Honeywell receives, net of the Taxes withheld, equals the amount Honeywell would have received had no Taxes been required to be withheld, (ii) Customer will withhold the required amount of Taxes and pay such Taxes on behalf of Honeywell to the relevant taxing authority in accordance with applicable law, and (iii) Customer will forward proof of such withholding sufficient to establish the withholding amount and recipient to Honeywell within sixty (60) days of payment. In no event will Honeywell be liable for Taxes paid or payable by Customer.

10. BANK GUARANTEES: Prior to performance of the Work, Customer will provide a standby letter of credit, surety bond, or Bank Guarantee equal to ten percent (10%) of the estimated annual value of this Agreement ("BG"). The BG shall be provided by an approved internationally recognized financial institution nominated by Customer and approved by Honeywell and shall be in a specific form approved by Honeywell. On or before January 10 of each calendar year starting the second calendar year after the Effective Date, the value of the BG shall be adjusted in reference to the annual value of the Agreement over the previous year so that such amount shall reflect 10% of the actual amount of the previous calendar year spend. Any required increase shall be carried out (and each Party shall cooperate to so carry out) within ten (10) calendar days of the new calendar year.

11. EXCUSABLE DELAY OR NONPERFORMANCE

A delay that is permissible or excusable (each an "Excusable Delay") is any act, event or condition which hinders or prevents the affected Party from performing its obligations under this Agreement and is beyond the reasonable control of such Party (or any third party over whom such Party has control). Except for payment obligations (including increased payment obligations resulting from the need for a Change Order), neither Party shall be considered in default or in breach of its obligations under this Agreement if and to the extent that its failure of, or delay in, performance is due to an Excusable Delay event; provided, that (Y) the affected Party provides written notice to the other Party as soon as practicable of the Excusable Delay event and uses commercially reasonable efforts to overcome or mitigate the effects of such occurrence; and (Z) when the affected Party can resume its obligations, such Party shall give the other Party written notice to that effect and shall promptly resume performance. Notwithstanding the prior sentence, quantities affected by an Excusable Delay may, at the option of Honeywell, be eliminated from this Agreement without liability, but this Agreement will otherwise remain unaffected. Excusable Delay events shall include, without limitation:

1. Delays or refusals to grant an export license or the suspension or revocation thereof,
2. Any other acts of any government that would limit a Party's ability to perform under this Agreement,
3. An act of God, including, but not limited to, fires, earthquakes, flood, landslide, lightening, explosion, tropical storms, hurricanes, tornadoes, severe weather conditions,
4. Pandemics, epidemics, quarantines, or regional medical crises,
5. The presence Hazardous Substances or Mold,
6. Shortages or inability to obtain materials, equipment, energy, or components,
7. Labor strikes, lockouts, or other labor disruptions,
8. Riots, strife, insurrection, civil disobedience, landowner disturbances, armed conflict, terrorism, acts of a public enemy, war, blockade, insurrection, rebellion, sabotage or similar occurrence any exercise of the power of eminent domain, police power, condemnation or other taking by or on behalf of any public, quasi-public or private entity (or impending threat of any of the foregoing, if such threat might reasonably be expected to cause injury to people or property),
9. Suspension, termination, interruption, delay, denial or failure of renewal or issuance of any governmental permit, license, consent, authorization, interconnection, ability to work or operate a facility, or approval by a Governmental Authority or electric utility relating in any way to the Deliverables,

10. Inability or refusal by Customer or Customer's directed third-party suppliers to provide Honeywell parts, services, manuals, or other information necessary to the Deliverables to be provided by Honeywell under this Agreement,
11. A Change in Applicable Law occurring after the Effective Date,
12. Approval, passing, enactment or changing of sanctions laws, export/import control Laws or related regulations that impact or constrain the performance of the obligations of Honeywell or any of its supplier or vendors,
13. If site conditions, including but not limited to, interconnects to power generation to which any Product is attached, are inconsistent with assumptions in Honeywell's Proposal, or
14. Any other cause beyond the non-performing party's reasonable control.

If an Excusable Delay causes a delay, then any scheduled delivery date(s) for Products or performance dates for milestones, as well as any final completion date for Install Services will be extended by the period of time that the non-performing Party is actually delayed, or for any other period as the Parties may agree in writing. The additional costs incurred by Honeywell as a result of any Excusable Delay event shall be subject to the adjustment procedures set forth herein.

When performance is excused, Honeywell may allocate its services or its supplies of materials and Products in any manner that is fair and reasonable. However, Honeywell will not be obligated to obtain Services, materials or Products from other sources or to allocate materials obtained by Honeywell from third parties for Honeywell's internal use. Should any part of the system or any equipment in each case that are related to the Services be damaged by fire, water, lightning, acts of God, the presence of hazardous substances or mold, third parties, or any other cause beyond the control of Honeywell, any repairs or replacement shall be paid for by Customer.

For the avoidance of doubt, there need not be an Excusable Delay to invoke the Hyperinflation Section. In the event that an Excusable Delay event is ongoing for a period of time which is ninety (90) days or longer, Honeywell may provide notice to Customer that it is cancelling any affected outstanding Orders or affected portion thereof with no liability to Honeywell.

12. CUSTOMER CAUSED DELAY. In the absence of Honeywell's fault, Honeywell is not liable for any delays or increased costs caused by delays in obtaining parts, materials, equipment, services or software from a Customer-designated supplier, for Customer's failure to timely provide information required for the Work, or any other delay caused by, or within the control of, Customer. If Customer-caused delays occur, then the price, delivery dates, and other affected terms will be adjusted to reflect increased cost, delay, and other adverse impact suffered by Honeywell. For illustrative purposes only, and without limitation, events impacting price may include: (i) the cost of steel, copper, or aluminum, (ii) the cost of any buy-out items including additional cost based on a fluctuation in currency exchange rate, (iii) the cost of mechanical installation or electrical installation labor required for on-site work and/or installation, and (iv) the cost of pre-building and storing equipment at Honeywell's sole discretion. In the event that a delay caused by the Customer is ongoing for a period of time which is ninety (90) days or longer, Honeywell may provide notice to Customer that it is cancelling any affected outstanding Customer Orders or affected portion thereof.

13. WARRANTY, EXCLUSIONS & PROCEDURES.

A. Product Warranty Terms. Subject to compliance this Section, Honeywell warrants that the Products will be free from defects in workmanship and materials for the earlier of twelve (12) months from delivery or eighteen (18) months from shipping (the "Warranty Period"). This limited warranty does not cover defects caused by normal wear and tear or maintenance. Honeywell's sole liability and Customer's exclusive remedy, which shall be determined in Honeywell's sole discretion, is limited to replacement or repair of the relevant Product(s) or a credit for the purchase price of the relevant Product, less depreciation. The Warranty Period does not restart for replacement Products, and any replacement Products will only be warranted for the remainder of the original Warranty Period, if any.

B. Procedure for Warranty Claims. If, during the applicable Warranty Period, Customer believes there is a defect in material or workmanship covered by the relevant Product warranty, Customer must immediately discontinue use, if this would cause the defect to increase or otherwise damage the product, and notify Honeywell. Written authorization from Honeywell must be obtained prior to returning any Product(s) to Honeywell for warranty assessment. Return shipments and insurance must be prepaid by Customer must be appropriately packed and must be made within 30 days after Customer identifies or should have identified the defect. Upon receipt of any such Product during the applicable Warranty Period, Honeywell shall, at its expense, (i) examine the Product to verify the alleged defect or (ii) in Honeywell's sole discretion, credit Customer or repair or replace any defective Product, including shipment of such replacement or repaired Product back to Customer (at Honeywell's expense). Honeywell will credit Customer for its return shipping costs for any defective Products, but Customer will be responsible for paying any customs or import duties payable upon receipt of any repaired or replacement Products and also paying Honeywell a standard testing charge for any Products not found to be defective.

C. Services Warranty. Services shall be performed in a professional and workmanlike manner warranted for ninety (90) days from the date services are performed (the "Service Warranty Period"). Honeywell's obligation and Customer's sole remedy under this warranty is that Honeywell will correct or re-perform defective services or refund fees paid for the services, at Honeywell's sole election, if Customer notifies Honeywell in writing of defective services within the Service Warranty Period. All services reperformed are warranted for the remainder of the original Service Warranty Period.

D. Software Warranty. Honeywell warrants that as of the date of delivery by Honeywell, the Software will materially operate according to Honeywell's then-current applicable Documentation. If within 90 days of such date Customer documents and notifies Honeywell that the Software does not meet this warranty, then Honeywell will, at its option, either (a) correct the defect or error in the Software, free of charge, (b) make available to Customer satisfactory substitute software or (c) if none of the foregoing is in Honeywell's opinion commercially reasonable, refund to Customer all payments made as license fees for such Software after Customer certifies in writing that it has returned or deleted all copies of the Software in its possession. Honeywell warrants to the Customer that Honeywell has full right, title and interest necessary or is otherwise authorized to license the Software to the Customer free and clear of any claim of a third party. In addition, Honeywell warrants that (i) the Software shall not contain any software routine, code, or instruction, hardware component or combination of the foregoing (1) which permits unauthorized access to the Customer's IT network or the Customer's Confidential Information or (2) can disable, delete, modify, damage or erase software or data; (ii) the Software has received all required third-party approvals, consents, permits, authorizations, including, without limiting the foregoing, all requisite approvals from all regulatory or governmental agencies to allow the Customer and Honeywell to enter into and perform this Agreement and use the Software as intended; (iii) the Software shall operate without conflict with any anti-virus software product to be specified and installed by Honeywell; and (iv) the Software is compatible with the most current version of the operating system and database on which it is designed to function, and Honeywell shall, without additional cost to the Customer, revalidate the Software to meet or exceed its previous specifications after new versions, upgrades, patches, maintenance releases, or service packs are made available.

Honeywell shall continue to offer software licenses and maintenance to the Customer during the warranty period and any subsequent agreement for an extension of this period, provided that the Customer is not in breach of this Agreement or default on any payments owed to Honeywell.

In case Software is offered free of charge, the rights of the Customer in case of defects shall be limited to the rights as set out in Sections 523 and 524 of the German Civil Code (BGB).

Upon request, Customer shall grant Honeywell access to such records in order to verify warranty claims.

14. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY.

(1) Honeywell shall be liable for damages without limitation in the events of:

(a) willful intent (Vorsatz) or gross negligence (grobe Fahrlässigkeit),

Irrespective of Customer being aware of such circumstances, the limitation period shall be five (5) years starting from the event causing the damage.

The aforementioned limitations of liability pursuant to this Section 14 shall also apply in the event of any claims for damages asserted by Customer against organs, executive employees, employees or vicarious agents of Honeywell.

15. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY INDEMNIFICATION. Honeywell will defend Customer, its Affiliates and subcontractors against any third-party suit alleging that Customer's use of the Offering (as provided by Honeywell) in accordance with this Agreement, directly infringes any United States third-party patent or copyright, and will pay for any final judgment awarded by a court of competent jurisdiction assessed against Customer resulting from such suit; provided that Customer promptly notifies Honeywell when it is apprised of the claim and provides complete authority, information, and assistance (at Honeywell's expense) as to the defense and disposition via counsel of Honeywell's choice. Honeywell will not be responsible for any compromise, settlement, attorneys' fees, expenses, damages, or costs incurred by Customer without Honeywell's involvement and prior, written consent. Honeywell has no obligation or liability for claims arising out of the following: (a) Offerings made to Customer's designs, drawings, or specifications; (b) use of Offerings in any process or in any manner not supported by the applicable Documentation; (c) combination or use of any Offering with materials not furnished by Honeywell; (d) use of a version of any Software other than the current version; (e) data Customer provides; (f) Customer's use of the outputs of the Offering; (g) any alteration, customization, or other modification of the Offering other than by Honeywell; or (h) damages based on a theory of liability other than infringement by the Offering. If a claim of infringement is made for which Honeywell has indemnification obligations or if Honeywell believes that such a claim is likely, Honeywell may, at its sole option and expense, (i) procure for Customer the right to continue using the Offering or obtain a license to a reasonable substitute; (ii) replace or modify the Offering so that it is non-infringing; or (iii) in the case of Products and Software, require Customer to return the Product (and terminate Customer's license to the Software) in exchange for a credit of the purchase price or license fee, less reasonable depreciation and pro-ration of license fees for Software use. Further, Honeywell may cease shipping Products and Software it believes may be subject to a claim of infringement without being in breach of this Agreement. If the final judgment assessed against Customer is based on the revenue generated from the use of the Offering, as opposed to from the sale of the Offering by Honeywell to Customer (whether alone or in combination with any article or service not furnished by Honeywell), then Honeywell's liability under this indemnity, exclusive of defense costs, shall be limited to a reasonable royalty based on the contract price paid by Customer to Honeywell for the Offering that gave rise to the claim. This Section shall be subject to Honeywell's rights under Section 14 (Limitation of Liability). THIS PROVISION STATES THE PARTIES' ENTIRE LIABILITY, SOLE RECOURSE, AND THEIR EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES WITH RESPECT TO CLAIMS OF IP INFRINGEMENT. Honeywell may make a written request to Customer to modify this Agreement based on the Customer's action or inaction, or the receipt or discovery of information, not expressly contemplated by this Agreement that Honeywell believes will cause a change to the Work, price, schedule, level of performance, or other facet of the Agreement. Honeywell will submit its request to Customer within a reasonable time after receipt of, or the discovery of, information that Honeywell believes will cause a change to the Work, Price, schedule, level of performance, or other facet of the Agreement. This request shall be submitted by Honeywell before proceeding to execute the change, except in an emergency endangering life or property, in which case Honeywell shall have the authority to act, in its discretion, to prevent threatened damage, injury or loss (an "Emergency"). Honeywell's request will include information necessary to substantiate the effect of the change and any impacts to the Work, including any change in schedule or Price. Customer will have five (5) business days to accept or reject the Change Order. If Customer fails to respond within five (5) business days, the Change Order will be deemed accepted and Customer shall extend the schedule and/or pay for the change in the Work. If Customer and Honeywell cannot agree on the amount of the adjustment in the Price or the schedule, it shall be escalated to the VP of operations, general manager of the business, or business leader with similar responsibilities. If no agreement can be reached, it shall be escalated to the president for which the business resides. Any change in the Price or schedule resulting from such claim shall be authorized by Change Order. If Customer rejects the Change Order, Honeywell shall not be obligated to perform the additional or altered Work.

The rights of termination provided in this clause are not exclusive of other remedies that a party may be entitled to under this Agreement or in law or equity, including, without limitation, payment for services performed and for losses sustained for materials, tools, construction equipment and machinery, reasonable overhead, profit, and applicable damages.     If the cancellation fees and costs are not paid in full by Customer, or if Honeywell has already begun production of any portion of the Order, Honeywell may elect to ship the Order and invoice the Customer for the full amount owed under the Order in lieu of assessing the cancellation fee. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Customer acknowledges and agrees that Honeywell's salvage, storage or resale of Product might be impossible or impracticable and that if Customer is responsible for transportation (or arranging for transportation) of product(s) and fails to do so by the agreed pick-up date, Honeywell may, at Customer's cost and without modifying or affecting the title, risk of loss, and delivery terms under the Agreement, secure transportation to deliver the thereafter, Honeywell may: (a) require Customer to send written certification of compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement within 30 days; and (b) upon reasonable notice, audit the Customer's records and electronic logs to verify Customer's access to and use of any Offerings and Customer's compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Customer agrees and expressly acknowledges that Customer is responsible for its own cyber risk management program, including those responsibilities set forth in this Section and in this Agreement, and must participate in Customer's own defense and work with Honeywell to create a prioritized, flexible, repeatable, performance-based, and cost-effective process to identify, assess, and manage cyber risk throughout Customer's enterprise. Honeywell shall have no liability in connection with any Event unless the Event was caused by defective Products, Software or Services provided by Honeywell or Honeywell is otherwise responsible, in which case Honeywell's liability shall be determined in accordance with the applicable warranty and liability provisions in this Agreement.

    Audit. Customer will maintain complete, current and accurate records documenting the location, access and use of the Offering. During the Term and for 1 year

Customer represents and warrants that Customer will (i) use commercially reasonable administrative, physical and technical safeguards to protect Customer's systems, facilities, operations or data or follow industry-standard or other mutually agreed upon security practices; (ii) update to the latest version of relevant software and follow the current Documentation for the same; (iii) make no modifications or alterations to any hardware or software comprising the Cybersecurity Services without Honeywell's express written permission; (iv) designate 2 or more employees, executives, or agents (the "Contact Person(s)") who will respond to any Events and take recommended actions to mitigate harm to Customer's network; (v) develop and adopt a written governance, risk and compliance policy or policies, approved by a senior officer or Customer's board of directors (or an appropriate committee thereof) or equivalent governing body, setting forth Customer's policies and procedures for the protection of its information systems and nonpublic information stored on those information systems (the "Cybersecurity Policy"); (vi) develop and adopt a written incident response plan ("IRP") that is exercised and/or practiced with key scenario driven evaluations on at least an annual basis; and (vii) provide Honeywell with copies of Customer's Cybersecurity Policy, IRP, and business continuity or disaster recovery plans upon Honeywell's request.

24. GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTES. All questions or disputes arising out of or relating to this Agreement and its interpretation or enforcement (including its, breach, validity and termination), and the Parties' relationship, rights and liabilities relating hereto, whether arising in contract or otherwise ("Dispute"), shall be governed by the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule that would cause the application of the laws of any jurisdiction other than the Federal Republic of Germany. Honeywell and Buyer expressly agree to exclude from this Agreement the Uniform Computer Information Transactions Act and United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods, 1980, and any successor thereto.

The parties agree that the courts of Frankfurt am Main, Germany, shall be the sole and exclusive venue for any Dispute.

Buyer will not bring a legal or equitable action more than one year after the cause of action arose unless a shorter period is provided by applicable law. This exclusion period shall not apply in the case of liability due to intent and gross negligence. It also does not apply - irrespective of the degree of fault - in the case of liability for damages resulting from injury to life, body or health. Also not covered are claims that are non-waivable under statutory law.

Before the Parties initiate any dispute resolution process other than injunctive relief, the Parties must schedule a mandatory executive resolution conference to be held within thirty (30) days of receipt of the other Party's written request. The conference must be attended by at least one executive from each party. At the conference, each party will present its view of the Dispute in detail and the executives will enter into good faith negotiations in an attempt to resolve the Dispute. If the dispute is not resolved within fifteen (15) days of the end of the conference, then either party may pursue resolution of the Dispute consistent with the other terms of this Agreement.

This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon any successor or permitted assign of the Parties. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, Honeywell may engage subcontractors to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement. Use of a subcontractor will not release Honeywell from liability under this Agreement for performance of the subcontracted obligations.

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Honeywell may assign this Agreement and its rights relating to payment for sales made under this Agreement without Customer's consent and, notwithstanding any confidentiality obligations, may provide any purchaser of any such rights information and documents reasonably related to such sales, provided such purchaser has a confidentiality agreement in place with Honeywell that precludes disclosure of any Customer confidential information to any third party without Customer's consent.

    Honeywell is not responsible for determining whether any equipment or the temperature, humidity and ventilation settings used by Customer, are appropriate for Customer and the worksite location(s) with respect to avoiding or minimizing the potential for accumulation, concentration, growth or dispersion of any Hazardous Substance or Mold.

    If any such materials, situations, or conditions, whether disclosed or not, are discovered by Honeywell or others and provide an unsafe condition for the performance of the Service, the discovery of the condition shall constitute a cause beyond Honeywell's reasonable control and Honeywell shall have the right to cease the Services until the area has been made safe by Customer or Customer's representative, at Customer's expense. Honeywell shall have the right to terminate this Agreement if Customer has not fully remediated the unsafe condition within sixty (60) days of discovery.

    Customer represents that Customer has not retained Honeywell to discover, inspect, investigate, identify, be responsible for, prevent or remediate Hazardous Substances or Mold or conditions caused by Hazardous Substances or Mold. Honeywell shall have no duty, obligation or liability, all of which Customer expressly waives, for any damage or claim, whether known or unknown, including property damage, personal injury, loss of income, emotional distress, death, loss of use, loss of value, adverse health effect or any special, consequential, punitive, exemplary or other damages, regardless of whether such damages may be caused by or otherwise associated with defects in the Service, in whole or in part due to or arising from any investigation, testing, analysis, monitoring, cleaning, removal, disposal, abatement, remediation, decontamination, repair, replacement, relocation, loss of use of building, or equipment and systems, or personal injury, death or disease in any way associated with Hazardous Substances or Mold.

Honeywell will use industry standard virus detection software designed to protect against viruses.

36. DATA RIGHTS

A. License. Customer retains all ownership and other rights to data and other information that Customer or persons acting on Customer's behalf input, upload, transfer, or make available in relation to, or which is collected from Customer's systems, devices or equipment by, the Services ("Input Data"). Customer grants to Honeywell and its Affiliates a non-exclusive, transferable, worldwide, perpetual, irrevocable, sublicensable (through multiple tiers), royalty-free and fully paid-up right and license to collect and use Input Data. Honeywell has the right to retain, transfer, disclose, duplicate, analyze, modify, and otherwise use the Input Data to maintain, protect, develop, operate, improve and support Honeywell's products, services or Services. Honeywell may use Input Data for any other purpose provided it is in an anonymized form that does not identify Customer or any data subjects. Input Data is Customer's Confidential Information. All know-how and information developed by Honeywell and/or its Affiliates through processing or analyzing Input Data (but excluding Input Data itself), including software, models, designs, drawings, documents, inventions, and know-how conceived or developed in connection with the Agreement and any intellectual property rights thereto, are owned exclusively and solely by Honeywell and are Honeywell's Confidential Information. Customer has no right or license to intellectual property or inventions provided by Honeywell, except as granted in this Agreement. The rights granted to Honeywell with respect to Input Data shall survive termination of the Agreement.

B. Conditions. Customer has sole responsibility for obtaining all consents and permissions (including providing notices to users or third parties) and satisfying all requirements necessary to permit Honeywell's use of Input Data. Unless agreed in writing, Honeywell does not archive Input Data for Customer's future use. Customer consents to any transfer of Customer's Input Data outside of its country of origin, except that Personal Data is subject to the DPA.

C. EU Data Act. To the extent Customer has a right to access Input Data under Regulation (EU) 2023/2854, (the "Data Act"), the scope of such data and the technical means for exercising such rights are set forth in applicable documentation. Customer confirms that it has reviewed and accepts the applicable documentation and waives any right to receive data or metadata not expressly listed therein. Customer is not entitled to request access to Input Data to which it has direct access through alternative means. Honeywell makes no warranty, express or implied, regarding the accuracy, reliability, compatibility, usability or fitness of any Input Data supplied to Customer.

37. EU DATA ACT (SWITCHING). This Section applies to the extent Honeywell or Customer is subject to the Data Act and the Connected Solution constitutes a Data Processing Service as defined therein. For purposes of this Section, capitalized terms not otherwise defined in this Agreement have the meaning given them in the Data Act. This Section prevails over any inconsistent provision of the Agreement with respect to its content.

A. Switching. Customer may, on sixty (60) days' prior written notice, request Honeywell's assistance in porting Exportable Data to Customer's infrastructure or switching to an alternative provider of Data Processing Services. Honeywell will provide reasonable assistance to support switching, including providing appropriate and necessary relevant information. Honeywell will act with due care to maintain business continuity and a high level of security throughout the switching process. Switching will be completed within thirty (30) days of receiving Customer's request, except that Honeywell may extend the switching period by up to six (6) months if such timing is technically unfeasible. Upon written notice to Honeywell prior to the completion of switching, Customer may extend such switching period for reasonable period of time.

B. Retrieval & Deletion. Upon successful completion of switching, Honeywell will retain Exportable Data for a retrieval period of at least thirty (30) days, during which time Customer may access such data for retrieval. Honeywell will delete Exportable Data within ninety (90) days of conclusion of the retrieval period, unless otherwise required by applicable law or for compliance, audit, or security purposes. Honeywell will not be required to delete information held as part of regularly generated electronic backup data or archive data, the destruction of which is not reasonably practicable.

C. Termination. Upon successful completion of switching or expiry of the applicable maximum transition period, the Agreement will terminate with respect to the Connected Solution subject to the switching request. The remainder of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and survive such termination as to the relevant Connected Solution.

D. Switching Costs. Honeywell may invoice Customer for direct switching costs permitted for switching requests made prior to 13 January 2027. Nothing in this Section waives any fixed-term commitment or early-termination fees agreed elsewhere in this Agreement. Any pre-paid amounts are non-refundable, to the extent permitted under applicable law.

E. Early Termination Fee. If the Agreement terminates with respect to the Connected Solution subject to the switching request as described herein, Customer shall pay an Early Termination Fee equal to the net present value ("NPV") of the remaining annual subscription Fees due for the remainder of the current Connected Solution Subscription Term, calculated from the effective date of termination through the end of the Connected Solution Subscription Term, using a discount rate of 10% per annum. Customer acknowledges and agrees that the Early Termination Fee is: (i) exclusive of any direct costs associated with switching, (ii) proportionate, and (iii) solely intended to compensate Honeywell for the loss of anticipated revenue associated with early termination.

F. International Transfer. Further information on the geographic deployment of the Connected Solution and a general description of technical, organizational and contractual measures is available at https://www.honeywell.com/us/en/company/trust-center.

38. WORKING HOURS (intentionally left blank)

39. TRAVEL AND EXPENSES. Travel and living expenses incurred by Honeywell personnel will be invoiced on a reimbursable basis, at actual cost plus a 10% processing fee and will be accompanied by reasonable and usual verification of costs incurred. Travel time for the assigned personnel will be based on the number of hours incurred traveling from each person's Honeywell office to the Customer site/office (and return) and will be billed at the then-current labor rate.

40. COVERAGE. Customer agrees to provide Honeywell access to all equipment covered by the Services to be performed by Honeywell under this Agreement, which is limited to the equipment expressly listed in each List of Covered Equipment contained in the associated SOW ("Covered Equipment"). Honeywell will be permitted, without liability, to start and stop all primary equipment incidental to the operation of the mechanical, control, automation, and life safety system(s) as arranged with Customer's representative.

    It is understood that Honeywell's repair, replacement, and emergency service obligations apply only to the Covered Equipment (if any and only to the extent expressly provided in the attached SOW). Repair or replacement of non-maintainable parts of the system such as, but not limited to, ductwork, piping, shell and tube (for boilers, evaporators, condensers, and chillers), unit cabinets, boiler refractory material, heat exchangers, insulating material, electrical wiring, hydronic and pneumatic piping, structural supports and other non-moving parts, is not included under this Agreement. Costs to repair or replace such non-maintainable parts will be the sole responsibility of Customer.

    Honeywell will not reload software, nor make repairs or replacements necessitated by reason of negligence or misuse of equipment by persons other than Honeywell or its employees, or caused by lightning, electrical storm, or other violent weather or by any other cause beyond Honeywell's control. Honeywell may provide such services at Customer's request and at an additional charge.

    Honeywell may install communication or diagnostic devices and/or software to enhance system operation and support. Upon termination of this Agreement, Honeywell may remove these devices and software and return the system to its original operation. Customer agrees to provide, at its sole expense, connection to the Internet and switched telephone network for such devices and/or software.

    Honeywell will review the Services delivered under this Agreement on an annual basis, unless otherwise noted.

    This Agreement assumes that the systems and/or equipment included in the Covered Equipment are in maintainable condition. If repairs are necessary, in Honeywell's sole judgment, upon inspection or seasonal start-up or otherwise, repair charges will be submitted for approval to Customer. Should these charges be declined, those systems and equipment will be eliminated from coverage under this Agreement and the price adjusted accordingly.

    In the event that the system or any equipment component thereof is altered, modified, changed or moved, this Agreement may be immediately adjusted or terminated, at Honeywell's sole option. Honeywell is not responsible for any damages resulting from such alterations, modifications, changes, or movement.

    Maintenance, repairs, and replacement of equipment parts and components are limited to using commercially reasonable efforts to restore to proper working condition. Honeywell is not obligated to provide replacement software, equipment, components, and/or parts that represent a betterment or capital improvement to Customer's system(s) hereunder.

    Unless otherwise specified, Customer retains all responsibility for maintaining local area networks, wide area networks, leased lines, and/or other communication mediums incidental or essential to the operation of the system(s) or equipment found included in the Covered Equipment.

    Customer will promptly notify Honeywell of any malfunction in the system(s) or Covered Equipment covered under this Agreement that comes to Customer's attention.

41. NON-SOLICITATION. Customer will not, for the duration of this Agreement and one year thereafter, directly or indirectly solicit for employment any person employed by Honeywell or its Affiliates who is providing or has provided services to Customer or its Affiliates under this Agreement; provided that the foregoing shall not prevent Customer from soliciting or employing (x) any person who is no longer employed by Honeywell or its Affiliates and who terminates such employment without inducement to do so by Customer or its Affiliates and (y) any person who responds to a general solicitation for employment placed by Customer in a broadly-disseminated publication.

42. COMMERCIAL USE. Except as expressly identified on the face of a Purchase Order, Customer represents and warrants that any technical data or software provided by Honeywell to Customer under this Agreement will not be delivered, directly or indirectly, to any agency of any government in the performance of a contract, or subcontract, with the respective government (other than an agency who is enumerated as an end-user of the Work under this Agreement) without the prior written consent of Honeywell.

43. OTHER INDEMNIFICATION (intentionally left blank)

44. LIABILITY DISCLAIMER FOR BUYER SERVICES (intentionally left blank)

45. ENFORCEABILITY, WAIVER. If any portion of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable, the remaining portions will remain in full force and effect. Any invalid or unenforceable portions will be interpreted to effect the intent of the original portion. If such construction is not possible, the invalid or unenforceable portion will be severed from this Agreement, but the rest of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect. Failure to enforce or exercise any provision is not a waiver of such provision unless such waiver is specified in writing and signed by the Party against which the waiver is asserted.

46. SUBCONTRACTORS (intentionally left blank)

48. MISCELLANEOUS (intentionally left blank)
