

NETWORK CABLING AND CONNECTORS

COURSE OVERVIEW

Course Number: EXP-7026-MT

Course Duration: 220 Minutes

Prerequisite Course (s): None

This module provides an overview of networking fundamental required for the automation industry. It focuses on the concepts related to cabling, connectors, and media considerations. It is presented in nine units, which will allow you to explore the different technical concepts at your own pace.

COURSE DELIVERY OPTIONS

- Modular Training (MT)

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Physical categories in a computer network
- Shared resources in a network
- Network topologies
- Cables and connectors media considerations
- Cabling - transmission mechanisms
- Modes of communication
- LAN cables publish
- Media connectors
- Networking components